

Become an SSBS Partner School

Become part of the SSBS community and benefit from a strong network, professional training and practical offers for your snow sports school.

As an SSBS partner school, you position your school as part of a professional Swiss snow sports network. You gain access to attractive training and continuing-education opportunities and can train your employees directly at your school.

Your benefits as an SSBS partner school

Training directly at your school

With an active SSBS Technical Leader or an SSBS expert at your school, you can run various training programmes directly on site.

These include, among others:

- Rookie Coach courses (run by a Technical Leader)
- In-house school modules (run by experts)
- Refresher courses (run by experts)

Training takes place directly at your snow sports school. The corresponding examinations are subsequently completed with the SSBS.

This means that your snow sports school itself becomes a training location. Your employees can complete part of their training in their usual working environment – practically, efficiently and with short travel distances.

The Ridersystem – a shared teaching concept

As an SSBS partner school with an active Technical Leader, you can teach according to the guidelines of the Ridersystem.

The Ridersystem is the SSBS's standardised teaching concept for skiing and snowboarding. It provides a common basis for modern, structured and high-quality teaching.

The Ridersystem is continuously developed and provides digital and flexible solutions for everyday teaching.

We will be happy to explain personally what the Ridersystem can do for your school.

Your benefits at a glance

Presence on the SSBS website

Your school is listed in the "SSBS Schools" section of the SSBS website. This makes it easy to see at a glance whether your school uses the Ridersystem and which services it offers.

Interested snow sports instructors can therefore quickly find the SSBS schools and offers that suit them.

Free job advertisement

Publish job vacancies free of charge on the SSBS platform and make your open positions visible to people interested in snow sports.

Further benefits of active membership

As an SSBS member, you benefit from various advantages and preferential conditions, including discounts from partners such as Nitro.

Membership

Active membership

CHF 290.– per year

The prerequisite is that an SSBS Technical Leader is active at your school.

Active membership gives you the most comprehensive access to the opportunities offered by SSBS – in particular, access to training programmes directly at your school and the opportunity to use the Ridersystem. You can also actively contribute to the association and participate in decision-making. This includes voting and election rights at the SSBS General Assembly.

Passive membership

CHF 90.– per year

Would you like to be part of the SSBS network but currently do not have an SSBS Technical Leader at your school?

As a passive partner school, you are invited to the SSBS General Assembly and stay informed about SSBS activities, developments and offers. However, passive membership does not include voting or election rights.

You can switch to active membership as soon as the requirements are met.

Ready for the next step?

Become an SSBS partner school and develop your school together with us.

Whether it's training, continuing education, teaching concepts or access to qualified snow sports instructors – SSBS supports you and your school on the path to becoming a professional, forward-looking snow sports school.

If you have any questions about membership, the Ridersystem or the training pathway to becoming an SSBS Technical Leader, Expert or School Director, we are happy to assist you.
